Player Settings

The player selects settings at any time from the game board. The system locks any settings that would invalidate the board state. The system still displays all settings. The player selects any valid settings they wish to change, which the system records. The player exits the settings menu.